

Notes to candidates

Before you start to research, you must select a brief and read the ‘Instructions for candidates’ which gives details of the skills you must demonstrate and the type of evidence you must provide.

You should speak to your teacher or lecturer before you start if you are unclear about what is required for this assessment.

Complete the product design specification on the research and specification pro forma.

You must:

- ♦ carry out research on a range of issues relevant to the task
- ♦ draw conclusions from your research
- ♦ ensure your specification covers a range of issues such as aesthetics, function, ergonomics, performance and cost.

Design brief 1

Neon Golf would like design proposals for a product that will hold adventure golf equipment that customers will collect at the start of their game.

The proposal needs to hold different lengths of putters, golf balls, pencils and score cards. These items should be stored creatively, and be accessible for all users.

The proposal needs to be influenced by the ‘Under the Sea’ theme and fit within the available floor space of 1.5m x 1.5m.

You can use one or more of the components shown on pages 28-30 within the assembly of the proposal.
